Cynthia Brian captured the meaning and value of her Catholic grade school education — her goal is to serve others and enhance quality of living by recognizing that our differences are our greatest strengths. Cynthia has worked diligently to spread this message in her work. Through her company, Starstyle Productions, she produces television and radio shows, which are broadcast throughout the United States. Her nonprofit organization, Be the Star You Are, is a volunteer organization providing positive educational and inspirational resources and tools to those in need of hope. She also has authored several books, including Be the Star You Are, The Business of Showbusiness, and Chicken Soup for the Gardener's Soul. Cynthia will be honored at a special breakfast during Catholic Schools Week.
