And They Found Dragons, The Boy Who Fell From The Stars by Ted Dekker and Rachelle Dekker is pretty cool book to read! It is about a boy, Jack. Jack was born on a space ark since Earth had a whole environment of dragons. A group of children (including Jack), was sent to Earth to face these dragons to get their Earth back.

This book is both sci-fi and a fantasy. I would get this book at a library but receiving it as a gift would also be good! I think that this book is for 3rd to 7th graders. It goes through challenging events that I think people could love!

I admire this adventure book. I love adventure and the theme of the story is pretty interesting too! It is very interesting how children have to fight against these dragons which made me a little confused and unhappy at first, but this actually made the book funner to read. This book could be suspenseful at times, but that is what makes the book unique.
